WISH TO GRAB BELGIUM

J. W. T. MASON SAYS PAN-GERMANISM DEMANDS ANNEXATION OF THAT COUNTRY

(By the United Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Pan-Germanism is demanding the annexation of Belgium as the principal price for the cost of the war to Germany. The movement has been concealed until now. Suddenly it appears a result of Teutonic victories in the East and many believe Pan-Germanism can dictate terms of settlement.

The government is not encouraging the annexationists. Those opposed to such a step, including Dr. Bernard Dernburg, have submitted a petition to Chancellor von Bethmann-Holweg urging against the annexation of Belgium and pointing out the danger of absorbing alien and reluctant nationalities.

A counter petition has been made showing the extensive demand for annexation. Dr. von Bethmann-Holweg is believed to favor restoration of independence to Belgium. His prestige is extensive, but the chancellor's political opponents are trying to embarrass him by urging annexation of King Albert's country.

The popular demand for the annexation of Belgium does not consider that England will not return the German colonies or lift the blockade of Germany unless Belgium is freed.

VARIETY SHOWER PARTY

Mrs. Charles Wesley Bartow entertained at her home on West First street Tuesday afternoon with a variety shower in honor of Miss Norma Pierson, a bride of the near future. The rooms were beautifully decorated with pale pink asters and ferns. When the guests arrived they were set to work piecing a quilt for the bride. Several amusing games were then played. After the work had been finished Mrs. Ernest Osgood entertained the guests at the piano.

Shortly afterward a trained nurse in full costume passed through the room carrying what looked to be a beautifully dressed baby. After a little speech the "baby" was laid in Miss Pierson's arms and she was instructed to undress "it." This she did and discovered that the "infant" was a large pillow-case filled with beautiful gifts. Dainty refreshments were then served and the happy afternoon was closed. Those present were:

Mrs. B. C. Booth, Miss Edith Nichols, Mrs. John Farrell, Mrs. E. D. Hill, Mrs. Hubert Grensted, Mrs. Dr. T. C. Young, Mrs. R. M. Brown, Mrs. Eula May, Mrs. J. P. Lampert, Mrs. H. L. Moody, Mrs. R. W. Alexander, Mrs. J. B. Hayes, Mrs. E. E. Osgood and the honoree, Miss Norma Pierson.

GERMANS SINK WHITE STAR LINER

VESSEL WAS OUTWARD BOUND, CARRIED NO AMMUNITION AND NO CONTRABAND—HAD 175 PASSENGERS AND 260 CREW

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, England, Aug. 19.—Considerable excitement was created here to day by the announcement that the White Star liner, Arabic, enroute from Liverpool to New York, was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine off Fastnet. It is believed that a number of lives were lost. The Arabic was a 15,000-ton vessel and carried 175 passengers and a crew of 260. As she was outward bound she carried no munitions of war and no contraband. The White Star line this afternoon issued a statement saying that fifteen boatloads of passengers were saved from the Arabic.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 19.—An investigation was started to day by the State Department to ascertain if any Americans perished in the sinking of the White Star liner Arabic, torpedoed off Fastnet by a German submarine. ## NAVAL BATTLE IN THE NORTH SEA

GERMAN TORPEDO-BOAT DESTROYS BRITISH CRUISER OFF WEST COAST OF JUTLAND—BRITISH ADMIRALTY MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

BERLIN, Germany, Aug. 19.—In a bare announcement today, the British admiralty made public the fact that a British cruiser was sunk by a German torpedo-boat off the coast of Jutland. Much speculation is being indulged in as to the details of the fight as it is not believed that a solitary British cruiser was dispatched to that coast. Recent reports of heavy firing off the Jutland coast are taken to indicate that there was some serious encounter between British and German men-of-war.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 19.—In view of President Wilson's warning that further attacks upon steamers with Americans on board would be regarded as deliberately unfriendly, the question of whether Americans were on the Arabic was regarded by authorities this afternoon as probably the most momentous that has arisen since the blowing up of the battleship Maine.

RABBITS AS FOOD

MANY PEOPLE IN GLENDALE NOW OCCUPIED IN RAISING DIFFERENT BREEDS

Rabbits, especially wild rabbits, have always been esteemed a superior kind of diet. In the older countries they are in the game list and are carefully preserved and permitted to live in warrens, which are periodically shot over, generally being worked with a ferret, which is sent into the holes and chases the rabbits out of the other holes, when they are easily shot.

Those old country rabbits have acquired a fine game value because of the succulent grasses they eat and they fetch a good price in market. In the United States the rabbit was at one time a great adjunct to the larder. That was in the old frontier days. Then the rabbit was in good condition and of whatsoever variety, cottontail or jackrabbit, was prime eating, at least the early settlers and the down-south ranchers all used to think so.

After a while the rabbits began to be considered a pest. Settlers waged war against them and even tried to exterminate them by means of diseases introduced among them. A peculiar disease induced by these poisons was a kind of internal ulcer which affected all the rabbits of Oregon and Washington states at one time and is still found among them. Again in the desert someone introduced a microbe disease among the jackrabbits, which once were as thick as the sagebrush itself. That killed out a great many until at the present moment you can go a long way on the desert without seeing a jackrabbit.

The plains of California used to be infested with jackrabbits also, but the constant battles or round-ups of the miserable creatures thinned them out and practically exterminated them. At those "drives" two or three hundred settlers on horseback, in buggies or on foot drove the poor creatures mile by mile into an ever lessening circle until they were all surrounded and then a slaughter would begin—grim and great.

Those days are over. The rabbits now familiar to the eye of the shopper are the domestic variety that is bred in so many different quarters of Glendale and all over California. Rabbit breeding is a science and demands attention on the part of those who expect to make anything out of it, but when it is scientifically attended to it becomes a pleasure and a profit. Among those who have made a study of rabbit breeding in Glendale, and there are many of them, are Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wilkinson, 1517 Ivy street, who have small rabbitry of about 100 inhabitants, all flourishing and on a paying basis.

"Mrs. Wilkinson is really the one who should get credit for having built up this industry," said Mr. Wilkinson to a representative of the Glendale Evening News. "It is she who has attended to the feeding and care that has made our variety of so great value and given us a stock that will rank with any in California. We breed the steel-gray Flemish rabbit.

The origin of the steel-gray Flemish is to be found in five different breeds—Belgian, Dutch, English lop, Himalaya and New Zealand. It took five generations to produce the steel-gray Flemish. The original one introduced into the United States came from England, but the American variety is now far finer than the English, both in size and color.

"In our rabbitry at 1517 Ivy street, we never keep more than 100 rabbits. That is no easy task. The rabbit is a very fast breeder. Sometimes a pair will produce as many as seventeen at a litter, sometimes eleven, sometimes fewer, but we always try to keep their family down to four litters or from four to six a year. Those that are in any way not up to the mark for first-class breeding stock, the culs, we sell for market animals. Usually about twenty-five cents a pound is obtained for them. In the case of mature rabbits, the price is usually from $15 to $25 a pair for fine breeding stock. Our rabbits begin to breed at eight months and continue for five or six years.

"Rabbits are easy to feed and easy to keep. We feed our rabbits green stuff only twice a week. They get a small portion of baled alfalfa and barley every day and carrots twice a week. Our usual method of feeding them is to give a small handful of barley in the morning and to let them have as much cured alfalfa as they can eat without leaving any over.

"When our rabbits are two months old they weigh about two pounds dressed. The does weigh fourteen pounds and the bucks from eleven to twelve. The business is profitable and you can learn of ranchers who are making fortunes out of it. Rabbits as food are becoming very popular, and those who raise them for their own table find a great saving in butcher meat."

CENTRAL WINS AGAIN

LIONS ARE DEFEATED AFTER PUTTING UP A HARD-FOUGHT GAME

Central avenue playground team has the elements of a first-class team in its ranks. It has demonstrated possession of one of the most valuable qualities a team can possess—recuperative power. After defeat at the hands of the Tigers, Central set itself sedulously to stimulate the spirits and revive the courage of its men and succeeded so admirably that they were able to inflict on the Lions the decisive defeat of 9 to 4 Wednesday.

There is nothing to the discredit of the Lions in this defeat. They came up to Central reorganized, in high spirits, confident of winning, and of thus giving the Tigers a better show for first place, but the spirit of Central avenue was too much for them. On their own ground the Centralians were invincible and ran up the score with clockwork regularity.

It is stated that one of the members of the Tigers, to fire the zeal of the Lions and insure their winning, offered to donate quantities of a certain edible ground nut to each member, but it was useless. The Centralians were unbeatable; would not be denied, and walked away with the victory. What gave the Central boys additional confidence was the return from a vacation of their star backstop, Reed. He caught a good game and worked well with Brown. The latter always gives a good account of himself in the box.

It is hoped that there will be as much interest taken in the next game as was manifested in Wednesday's match. A good game may be expected when the Tigers and Central meet at Central avenue playground.

That game will practically decide first place and the pennant.

The Tigers and Central avenue are running each other close for the lead in the junior league. Both teams won their games Wednesday.

The Tigers beat Pacific avenue 24-0 at the high school diamond. Pete Powers pitched for the Tigers, getting two strike-outs and allowing only four hits, while his teammates made many fast and clever plays in support of him.

Wilcox started pitching for Pacific, but after being hammered out of the box, M. Acasca stepped in and he pitched a beautiful game. Poor support, however, let in a number of runs. Pacific made a good double play and several other clever ones, but the team did not work together at the right moments.

The college alumni are coming on Saturday at 2 p. m. to play the Union high school playground team. The diamond will be put into first-class shape for the occasion and new bleachers will be installed. A small hat collection will be taken to raise $2.50 for expenses.

Following is the line-up for the high school on Saturday: J. Dewar, c; B. Dewar, p; Bidwell, 1b; Gabage, 2b; Phillips, 3b; Fisher, ss; Morse, lf; Coole, cf; Padelford, rf; substitutes, Scofield, Crandall and Budway. They are all requested to be on hand in time.

CUPID MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT

Mrs. Walter L. Patterson of 1463 Riverdale drive entertained with a pink noon luncheon Wednesday, the occasion being the announcement of the engagement of her daughter, Miss Alice, to Mr. George J. Lyon. A number of the friends of the bride-to-be were the guests and were properly delighted when the cat was let out of the bag, which literally happened.

The color scheme for this happy affair was pink, Cecil Brunner roses and carnations of this delicate shade being used throughout the home. In the dining-room the decorations were of pink asters, an immense bowl of these handsome autumn blossoms centering the table where the guests found their places by means of hand-painted kewpie cards. The favors were pink satin bags, which were a mystery to all until they were opened and out came the cat, also the names of the prospective bride and groom.

This luncheon was one of the pretty social affairs of the week and the many friends of the honored lady are showering her with congratulations since the happy secret is a secret no more.

and you can learn of ranchers who are making fortunes out of it. Rabbits as food are becoming very popular, and those who raise them for their own table find a great saving in butcher meat."

DRAMA IN THE HIGH SCHOOL

Those who were privileged to witness the excellent work of the High School class of 1915, in the play, "Daddy Long Legs" at the last Commencement will agree with O. B. Sperlin, Head of the Department of English, in Lincoln Park High School, Tacoma, Washington, when he said, in the address he delivered at National Council of Teachers of English, during the meeting of the National Education Association, at Oakland, Wednesday, that the production of such plays has brought more than satisfactory results. Of course, Glendale Union High School is a more than usually excellent example of what can be done in the way of high school drama; but that example can be followed in greater or less degree by other schools.

The mere putting on of high class drama by a high school company is a species of training of the most valuable kind. It is safe to say that none of those students who did such excellent work in the play of 1915 did otherwise than profit by the training which they were privileged to obtain in the course of preparing for that presentation. It would be invidious to single out any actor among the cast; but it is not out of the way to say that those who took the leading parts will shortly make themselves known in the circles of the universities.

Mr. Sperlin believes that there should be thorough co-operation between students and faculty in the production of those high class plays. Very properly he urges that none but high class plays be chosen and that the choice be acceptable to both the coach and the stage director, who should be members of the faculty.

It is not every school that has so excellent a stage as that in Glendale High School. It is capable of accommodating as many as will ever be asked to occupy it, at present; but times may change.

Last year it will be remembered that a very large class was graduated and that it filled the stage in every part. It is probable that the school will graduate still larger classes and have still larger audiences than those bumper houses that overflowed into the corridors and stood in the aisles at Commencement.

In order to encourage the study of dramatic art at the high school, it will be necessary to enlarge the present auditorium in some way or else to build a new one. The growth of the city and of the school district from which the high school pupils come is certain to make still further demands on the space available for teaching purposes and also for the accommodation of parents and friends on public occasions.

LOYALTY OF BRITISH SUFFRAGISTS

If anything has demonstrated the justice of the demand of the British women for suffrage it is the intensely loyal manner in which they have gone to the assistance of their government in its hour of need. Mrs. Pankhurst, the militant suffragist, headed a deputation to Lloyd-George, minister of munitions, the other day to assure him and the government that they desired to aid in the work of helping to defend the country.

That spirit demonstrates, probably as nothing else will, to the somewhat impenetrable intellect of the conservative Englishman, that the women were justified in demanding recognition of their rights to the suffrage. There is no doubt that Mrs. Pankhurst and her followers are on the high road to a full recognition of their demands. They, very loyally, have sunk those demands at the present moment, and support the enforcement of a national register. They also offer to serve in any capacity in which they might be useful. If, after that, Lloyd George and Premier Asquith, who once refused to receive Mrs. Pankhurst, delay in carrying out their desires, they will be guilty of a piece of ingratitude that no nation could tolerate.

Meantime it is doubtless news to many to learn that Germany has 500,000 women making ammunition; France nearly as many and Great Britain only about 50,000. It is apparently up to the British government to make use of the abundant energies of the feminine brigade that under Mrs. Pankhurst is likely to be most efficient in its service.

Speaking to the deputation of suffragists Lloyd George said that it was no wonder Great Britain was behind Germany in the matter of munitions. Germany had been preparing for forty years for this very war in which it was now engaged. With that start it was no easy matter to pull up to them; but it would be done, he said. Millions of people had to be organized in a short time and the government had to take over all machines and toolmaking establishments, or rather assume control of them in order to turn out the necessary war material. He indicated that women should be employed in making the lighter parts of the shells, such as the fuses; while the men should be turned on to the heavier work.

Of course all this is merely academical as far as the United States is concerned unless it profits this country to the extent of setting it to work to prepare war material in case of emergency. One of the great lessons of the war is that if battles are to be fought in manner similar to that now being employed in Europe, where more ammunition is fired off in a day than with its present equipment the United States could manufacture in six months, this country must make a start in the direction of thorough preparation for war possibilities.

With men like Lord Fisher, Sir William Crookes, Sir Oliver Lodge and Sir C. A. Parsons on the British war inventions committee, it should be possible to bring out something in the way of a submarine countercheck that should burst on the world some of these days as a mighty surprise. There are many other brilliant intellects at work on that problem and it is even said that an Italian inventor has brought forth a device by which submarine torpedoes can be deflected and exploded harmlessly. If that is the case, the allies had better set to work manufacturing it and fixing it to every vessel whether man-of-war or merchantman. Meantime, the United States is looking with confidence to Edison to invent something that will be a bulwark of defense to these shores of freedom.

CONQUERS TREE SCALE

LA CANADA MAN INVENTS SYSTEM—BIG SAVING OVER FUMIGATION

C. N. Weaver, who has so successfully managed the citrus ranch of Dr. Salisbury is an inventive genius and for the past two years has been devoting much time and thought to devising something that would effectively destroy the scale which is the main enemy to the citrus industry, without having to resort to the expensive and tedious fumigation system, and he has been entirely successful and his discovery will be of untold value to the citrus industry.

Mr. Weaver has perfected a machine consisting of a blacksmith's blower, with a hose attachment, through which a powder in summer and a liquid in winter is sprayed upon the trees, taking but a few moments to the tree.

In a single application on the home orchard it was found that 90 per cent of the scale was killed. Now by a double application they are practically exterminated, and whereas the cost of fumigating this orchard would have been about $500, by this plan the entire cost will not exceed $50. In this day of low prices for our fruit, this saving alone would turn what might have been a losing season into one of profit.

The county inspector has been out twice to inspect Mr. Weaver's trees and pronounces them cleaned.

Prominent growers from over this county and also from San Bernardino county, have visited this orchard and viewed the machine and its work and satisfied themselves of the facts as given above.

We hope Mr. Weaver will realize the financial reward commensurate to the great value of his discovery.

EDITORS RIDE ON A WARSHIP

An unusual courtesy was paid to the members of the Southern California Editorial association, who with their families are spending the week at Redondo Beach tent city. The battleship Wisconsin cast anchor off that port on Tuesday afternoon and took on board all the editors, their wives, children and babies. Then the giant warcraft steamed away to Venice. Congressman Chas. H. Randall, who is an editor himself, arranged the affair and secured permission from Rear Admiral Fulham to give the editors this remarkable joyride. As a result of telegraphic correspondence with Secretary Daniels, Congressman Randall also secured the visit of the flagship to Long Beach harbor on Tuesday and Wednesday.

SUIT OVER BALD HEAD

OAKLAND, Aug. 18.—For 31 years Mrs. M. E. Allen pretended not to notice her husband's bald head. Then she laughed at it in the presence of strangers, according to her husband, who has filed suit for divorce. He alleges she threatened to strike him and made personal criticisms of his hairless state.

EVENING NEWS PRIZES

The prizes offered in the Glendale Evening News subscription list are valuable ones and are worth woking for. This is an age of automobiles and the Maxwell touring car which is one of the prizes offered in the contest is a standard car and is worth four month's steady work on the part of any of the contestants. The Schiller piano is a high class instrument, priced at $400, and could not be bought for less than $360 from standard dealers. The trip to San Francisco will represent from $60 to $75 money value, and the winner of that prize will be given his choice of the trip or the cash. The $50 certificate of deposit is of course worth $50 and is a handsome prize for anybody.

The business college scholarships are valued at $75 each and given out by the Isaacs-Woodbury college, one of the best in the land.

There is an excellent chance for an energetic young man or woman to enter the contest yet and win a scholarship or get a $50 bank deposit or maybe a trip to San Francisco. The right kind of a worker might even stand a chance of getting an automobile or a piano.

While many new names have been added to the Evening News subscription list there are yet 500 homes in which the paper should go. So there is an excellent opportunity for some one to get into the contest and win a good prize.

HYGIENE IN SCHOOLS

W. F. KING OF INDIANA TELLS EDUCATIONAL CONGRESS OF HEALTH SUPERVISION

Before the Departmental Congress of the National Educational Association now in session in Oakland, Calif., W. F. King, assistant secretary of the Indiana board of health, in Indianapolis, Ind., yesterday evening gave an instructive address of which the following is an abstract:

The first official statement in reference to sanitary features in the construction of school houses in Indiana is to be found in rules of the Indiana State Board of Health passed July 13, 1900. These Rules were four in number, under the following headings: Site, building, water supply, outhouses, and represented the first feeble attempt on the part of health officials at sanitary supervision of the health and lives of the school children of the state.

From time to time additional rules were adopted by the state board of health in an attempt to prevent over-crowding in school rooms, to prohibit employment of teachers not physically sound or in good health, to provide proper ventilation, to prevent the spread of communicable disease by means of the common towel, common drinking cup and the indiscriminate use of pencils and to require thorough cleaning and disinfection of all school buildings prior to the opening of school each year.

In 1907 the Sanitary School House Law was proposed to the legislature and rejected. In 1909 this law was again proposed and again rejected. In 1911 the present Sanitary School House law was enacted.

Following the enactment of this law, the state board of health adopted additional rules requiring sick school children to be sent home; requiring the use of adjustable seats and desks, prohibiting dry sweeping and dusting, prohibiting obstruction to doors and stairways, prohibiting direct heating in any school building and providing for the proper care of basements, blackboards, floors, etc.

At the meeting of the National Education Association at Salt Lake City in 1913, Superintendent L. N. Hines of Crawfordsville, in an address on School Hygiene, presented the first draft of a set of rules and regulations to be adopted by the Indiana State board of health, governing the construction and maintenance of all sanitary features in all public and parochial schools throughout the state. These rules and regulations were formally adopted by the state board in February, 1914, and constitute the present sanitary standard for the state.

It is interesting to note the development of the present Indiana school through various stages from the type of school building prior to 1900, in the construction of which no thought was had in reference to sanitation or sanitary provision of any kind, to the present type of consolidated school building in which is to be found every known and possible provision to safeguard and protect the lives and health and promote the physical efficiency of the pupils. It is the purpose of this address to show by means of stereopticon pictures the progress and development that has been accomplished along this line. Since the enactment of the Sanitary School House Law in 1911 up to and including 1914, the state of Indiana has spent for new and remodeled school buildings the sum of $8,500,000.

There is under construction in the state at the present time new and remodeled school buildings representing an aggregate expenditure of $20,000,000, so that a total sum of $10,500,000 will have been expended for new and remodeled school buildings by the close of 1915, a period of five years.

NEED FOR CITY PARK

It is quite true that the question of a city park has been much discussed. We all agree that Glendale needs a park and should make a purchase of sufficient ground while it can be bought at a low price.

Ground is always increasing in value, providing it is bought at the right price. Glendale will not make a mistake should it invest in a tract of land or a number of large lots for park and playground purposes, and arranged similar to Echo Park in Los Angeles.

It seems to me that the property owners on Broadway would not want the park on a street so important for business purposes, unless they figure that the business is going in another direction, which I hardly believe they do. Business property does not increase in value adjoining or facing a park nearly as rapidly as it does where the street is lined up on both sides with mercantile buildings. I might cite Central or any other park in Los Angeles and let you be your own judge.

We should not pattern after San Diego. We should pattern after our sister city—Los Angeles—and when it comes to location, it seems to me that a few lots located between Fifth and Colorado streets would be the most desirable location. The main travel from Pasadena to Hollywood and the sea will always be over Colorado street, even if Broadway is opened up to Verdugo Road, as the largest percentage of the automobileists will take the short cut providing the street is kept in good condition. The park in this location would not only be central but it would be close to the beautiful high school buildings and the library where our children are.

Let us not be too hasty in making a selection but consider well, and remember that if lots can be bought cheaper in one place now than a year ago, they can also be bought elsewhere for less money, on account of the depressed condition of real estate not only in Glendale but in all cities. But let us not be discouraged, better times are on their way and values will soon be on the increase.

PERSONALS

Mrs. C. C. Nichols and children of St. Louis, Mo., have rented an apartment from Mrs. Tight, 423 West Third street.

Benjamin H. Nichols, Jr., has gone to Corvallis, Ore., to take a course in the agricultural college. He will spend a week in San Francisco with his friends.

Mrs. C. J. Hall, formerly of Tennessee, has been visiting her niece, Mrs. R. M. Neil, 427 Kenwood street, for several days. She has fallen very much in love with Glendale.

Miss Mary Vickers of Bristow, Okla., is visiting at the home of D. W. Nefsy, 735 Central avenue. Miss Vickers stopped off in Glendale between visits to the expositions.

Miss Edith Nichols of Cincinnati, sister of Mr. B. H. Nichols, 223 South Adams street, who is a house guest at her brother's home, and Mrs. B. C. Booth of Griffith park, are in Glendale on a brief visit.

Mrs. L. H. Hyer who formerly resided at 333 S. Louise St. is now in Los Angeles at 3715 Adair St. Her Glendale friends will be sorry to know that she has been very ill. However, she is improving at this writing.

F. R. Buchanan of 206 Orange street is entertaining an old Wisconsin friend, Albert Schroeder, whose home is in Hartford, that state. Mr. Buchanan has been showing California to Mr. Schroeder in an excellent manner.

Mrs. Nettie Gilkey of Los Angeles purchased the new Hoyt residence at Doran and Louise on Wednesday. The deal was made through the real estate agency of H. A. Wilson. Mrs. Gilkey and daughter will move to Glendale in the near future.

George Hastings, the popular usher at the Palace Grand theater, is to leave here Saturday evening as one of a party of five young men who are to spend a week at San Francisco. The others of the party are Harry Francy and Ferris Brown of the First National bank and Mark Francy and Mr. Young.

On account of the lecture at the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, the meeting was adjourned to meet Friday evening, August 20th. At this meeting the question of a city park will be brought up and the industrial committee will make a report. You will enjoy this meeting.

Mrs. A. W. Jenkins, 1427 West Third street, entertained with a girls' party in honor of her granddaughter, Helen Powell of Pomona. Those enjoying the fun of welcoming each other once more as little girls were the Misses Lucille Hadde, Willamae Hobbs, Anabelle McClellan, Marcella Orth, Marjorie Singleton, Eva Gould, Helen Gould, Mildred Singleton, Hettie Orth, Elmyra Cawood and Helen Powell. After spending the evening merrily, dainty refreshments were served and the "little girls" dispersed to become dignified young ladies on the morrow. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Skiles.

Mrs. Fred Wilkinson of 221 Central avenue gave a 1 o'clock luncheon Wednesday to the following ladies of Los Angeles: Mrs. E. J. Park, Mrs. J. C. Culver and Mrs. H. Waymire and Mrs. C. A. Wilkinson of Glendale. Mrs. Culver is here from the East visiting relatives and will attend the two expositions.

J. E. Peck, who is a student at Berkeley, and sister, Miss Rosa, of 815 Pacific avenue, left Wednesday evening for a camping trip of three weeks at Crater lake, near Ashland, Ore. They went by rail to San Francisco, and from there will make the trip by auto to the beautiful spot where they will camp for three weeks.

Miss Ethel Tregay of Chicago and Miss Hazel Rose Lawrence of Los Angeles, formerly of Chicago, were callers on Samuel Parker at a recent date, each recalling pleasant memories of the past in church and social work in Chicago. Miss Tregay used to recite Christmas poems when five years old, making an audience of a thousand hear distinctly. She has been a member of the "Haydn" society for ten years and rejoices in their coast triumphs. Miss Lawrence is a professional reader, not unknown to the Los Angeles public. To meet these young people in this way is among the pleasant things of life and the wish calls for expression that success crowns their efforts for useful professional lives.

Mr. J. E. Bassett and family, 1445 Valley View road, Casa Verdugo, will leave Wednesday, August 25, for Chicago, where they will spend two months. Afterward they will go north to Oshkosh, Wis., where they will remain for a couple of years. Mr. Bassett was formerly sales manager of the Paine Lumber company of Oshkosh and left that position to come to California to establish a branch of the business in this state. Recently the Paine Lumber company wrote urging him to come back and offering him his old position of sales manager. Mr. Bassett accepted, but will not likely remain there more than a couple of years. His heart and his interests are in California and in Glendale in particular. In view of his return, Mr. Bassett has taken all his property off the market.

Samuel Parker has returned from a pleasant visit to the home of his nephew, Rev. Leslie E. Parker, pastor of the Christian church at Santa Monica, and he is prosy enough to say that he took more pleasure tumbling about with the children on the green grass than could have been possible in wallowing around in the surf or the sand. However, rather than be odd, he looked on at the "swimmin' hole," briefly, and then looked modestly off, wondering in the meantime why some in the pool thought it necessary to cavort around in the water with more clothing on than they wore on the street. This doting on the beach and seaside is largely a fad. Outside of the "display" features, the creeks and rivers are just as serviceable for ablation, and you can get a chilly breeze and your shoes full of sand almost anywhere.

Mrs. E. D. Barber of Chicago is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. E. Graham.

Mrs. Graham of Los Angeles is visiting at the home of her son, J. E. Miller of Sunland.

Miss Gladys Thayer of Los Angeles is spending a month at the home of her father, Mr. Charles Thayer.

J. V. Correa is erecting a four room residence on Sunnyside St. and will complete same within the next couple of weeks.

John Livingston and family of Los Angeles are enjoying their vacation camping on the block north of Central avenue and west of First St.

Mrs. Girdlestone, who is a caretaker at the asylum at Highlands, is spending her vacation at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. H. Martin on First street.

Mrs. Dunning and daughter, Miss Jessie, are enjoying the sights of the San Francisco exposition and will stay at the Bay City another week before returning home.

Mrs. George Patterson and daughter, Miss Ida of Los Angeles spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of the former's brother, Mr. Frank Herrick at Littlelands.

Mr. Hunsacker who lately came to Southern California from New Mexico purchased G. F. Fischer's dairy, the new owner taking possession of the same on Monday.

Mrs. Laura Dannells of Portland, Ore., who has been enjoying a pleasant visit at the home of Miss Z. M. Gilbert on Sunset boulevard, Littlelands, returns to her northern home Saturday.

Richard Frost, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Frost has gone to Loma Linda to spend the rest of his vacation at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Edwards who were former residents of Littlelands.

Geo. Slusher has leased his place at the corner of Los Robles and Marshall avenue to G. F. Hitchcock of Glendale. Mr. Hitchcock contemplates moving to Littlelands the first of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Maxwell and family contemplate moving to Los Angeles about September 1. Their many friends deplore the fact that they will leave Sunland, but wish them success at their new home.

Rudolph Fehr of Jersey City, N. J., is erecting a $3000 residence on his property on El Centro avenue. C. L. Brewer of Los Angeles is the contractor and the house will be ready for occupancy about September 15.

On Tuesday evening of this week a birthday surprise party was given in honor of Miss Louise Maxwell at the Park hotel by about twenty of her friends. The evening was pleasantly spent with games and music and all present had a most enjoyable time.

Miss Ethel Martin of Los Angeles spent Tuesday and part of Wednesday of this week at the home of her parents in Sunland and attended the birthday surprise party given in honor of Miss Louise Martin Tuesday evening.

There will be a concert and box social at Wells-croft, the pleasant home of Mr. Arthur Wells, Saturday evening, August 21 under the auspices of the Monte Vista band. The band boys are deserving of all the aid they can receive and a large crowd is expected.

Mrs. E. Sheeler and Miss A. Moran conduct a confectionery at the corner of Michigan and Sunset Sts., which is truly known as the "oasis" of Littlelands. The above ladies serve light lunches, ice cream, cold drinks, etc. and their place is a very popular one these hot days.

J. W. Lewis and son, Elwin left for San Diego, Saturday, where they will visit the exposition. Elwin will enlist for service in the navy while at San Diego and after recruiting at San Diego will go to Mare Island near San Francisco. Mr. Lewis expects to return Saturday of this week.

One of the busiest men in this section is J. O. Allen, the blacksmith. About a year and a half ago he was the proprietor of the Littlelands blacksmith shop and purchased the shop on Sunland, combining the two to his present location. The blacksmith work of the entire valley, as well as the general repairing, keeps Mr. Allen mighty busy, but as "business is the life of trade," he makes the most of his fortunate situation.

A store in Littlelands which certainly is necessary one to the community is that of Dean & Co., which is conducted by Mr. and Mrs. D. C.

Dean. This store includes a stock of dry goods, notions, shoes, house furnishings, tobaccos, etc., and is the only dry goods store in the valley. While Mr. Dean came to Southern California from Michigan about three years ago, he resided for a short time in Ventura county forty years ago, and remembers the great drought in that vicinity when sheep sold at ten cents a head, and anyone could buy cattle at the rate of twenty-five cents a head.

L. T. Rowley had the misfortune to be the victim of a very painful accident Thursday of last week while assisting in the storm drainage improvement work in Haynes canyon. A large log was thrown from a wagon striking his foot and severely bruising it. He is now recovering rapidly and will be able to serve as one of the witnesses from this vicinity in the case of Clement vs. Fitzgerald, Fitzpatrick and others, which will be tried in the superior court of Los Angeles next week. The case is the outgrowth of former litigation in regard to damage done by flood waters in Hanson's canyon during the period of heavy rains nearly two years ago.

The regular town meeting of Littlelands was held Tuesday evening at the Littlelands clubhouse, the moderator, Fred M. Ashby, presiding. The meeting was well attended and matters of local interest were discussed generally. Considerable discussion was engaged in regarding changing the evening of meeting from Tuesday to Friday, and it was finally decided that beginning on August 27 that town meetings will be held on Friday evenings. A registration was taken of all present, which is the beginning of a list of every citizen of Littlelands, and which will give name and place of birth of every inhabitant in the settlement. Remarks were made during the evening by Edward Darlington, Capt. Geo. C. Buck, Dr. B. F. Carnay and M. V. Hartranft. Announcements were made regarding the social and band concert to be given for the benefit of the Monte Vista band at the home of Arthur Wells on Saturday evening of this week, and the lecture on "Gardening" to be given in the clubhouse by Mr. Geo. Maxwell this Friday evening.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 18.—California potatoes are declining so fast before the attacks of a fungus that the Golden State will have a crop this year one fifth less than that of five years ago. For this reason Dr. A. J. Cook, state horticulturist, plans a speaking campaign to tell ranchers how to fight the fungus. His dates are Bakersfield, September 16, El Monte, Sept. 17, Perris, Sept. 17, Salinas, Sept. 20, and Stockton, Sept. 23.

A district meeting in regard to the new La Canada grammar school is called for Saturday, August 21. The object of the meeting is to look over and talk over the different architects' plans.

Miss Inger Niby of Palm drive celebrated her sixth birthday Thursday with a small party. The grandparents on both sides and Miss Florence Pate of La Canada were the only guests present.

Misses Flossie Lee and Margaret Armstrong spent Thursday visiting Miss Hilda Dowdy of the Arroyo Seco. This will doubtless be the last we will hear of Miss Dowdy for some time, as her people are moving this week to Corcoran.

The hearing for improvement on School street came up Monday before the board of supervisors in Los Angeles. There being no remonstrance or objections of any kind, the clerk was ordered by the board to advertise for bids on the contract for School street. La Canada was represented at this meeting by Mr. Williams, Mr. Granger and Mr. Green.

Dr. Swift of Hermosa Beach, Llewellyn Price, winner of a scholarship in the Times contest; Donald Price, Bernie Picard and Master Hatch, all of Manhattan Beach, are making the Waterman oak grove ring with jollity once more. ## BURBANK'S BANKS

It has been truly said that a city is judged by its banking institutions and with that statement in view it can emphatically be said that the high status of Burbank is assured for no city of equal size can boast of better banking facilities and but very few cities several times larger than our own can equal us in that regard. Burbank is proud of her banks and she has just reason to be. Both occupy and own their attractive buildings which were built and planned for their special use. Both are officered by Burbank men and capitalized with Burbank money; both have a savings bank in connection and no legitimate borrower need go elsewhere when in need of funds. The combined resources of both banks as shown by their last report made on June 23, amounts to $364,486.56 with combined deposits of over $258,768 and loans amounting to about the same sum.

The First National Bank

This bank was started as the Burbank State bank in April, 1908, but its growth was so rapid that in order to properly care for the constantly growing patronage it was changed to a National bank on November 8, 1911 and at the same time the Burbank Savings bank was established.

They have an ideal location at the corner of Olive street and the San Fernando Road and their building presents a most attractive appearance. They have a capitalization and surplus of $55,500 with resources of $296,513. They have about seven hundred depositors whose total deposits amount to $218,699. The officers and directors are some of Burbank's most substantial and progressive men as follows, H. A. Church, president; O. O. Kendall, vice president; R. O. Church, cashier; A. E. Dufur, asst. cashier; directors, Martin Pupka, J. T. Shelton, Orville Myers and E. A. Knapp. Of the Burbank Savings Bank, H. A. Church, president; Martin Pupka, vice president; R. O. Church, cashier; A. E. Dufur, asst. cashier; directors, Thomas Story, J. T. Shelton, J. H. Avery, C. B. Fischer and J. C. Conway.

The Farmers and Merchants' Bank

Feeling the need of additional financial resources and facilities, this bank was organized as a Commercial and Savings Bank in 1913, with W. L. Pollock, president; C. P. Nesselroad, vice president; F. A. Halburg, vice president and F. F. Scribner, cashier; with C. E. Craig, L. B. Doran, W. J. Hornby, J. E. Luttige and F. Fairburn as its Board of Directors.

Its growth from the first has been steady and constant and shows the wisdom of its promoters whose motto has been from the first "Burbank's money for Burbank's business." It is conducted along safe, conservative lines and while still in its infancy is already a recognized factor in the financial institutions of the county. It has a capitalization of $25,000 with resources amounting to $67,913.99 and deposits of over $40,000. A safe deposit vault with safety boxes at very reasonable rental is an attractive feature. Its home is centrally and conveniently located in its own building which is an ornament to the city.

Short Dances

A. Bley has inaugurated what he terms a short dance. It will be held in the I. O. O. F. hall every Tuesday night. The hours are from 8 to 10 o'clock. The price of admission is twenty-five cents for gentlemen and ladies free, with a special invitation to the older people. The first one was held last Tuesday evening and was a decided success. Quite a number of the "older boys" dropped in for a moment and then expressed their approval and their intention of coming the next time. An attractive feature of the dances is that of allowing those in attendance to select their favorites, both as to music and the style of the dance, and many of the old tunes and dances will without doubt be the result.

H. E. Betz and his workmen commenced on the brick work of the new Flower block Wednesday afternoon.

C. Johnson, Tom Hawkins, A. D. Ackerly and Ed Fowler attended an athletic entertainment in Los Angeles Tuesday night.

C. E. Malone was in Patterson, Stanislaus county, last week looking after some farm land he has in that locality. He returned Monday.

Truckloads of native-grown watermelons now alternate with those of the cantaloupe on the San Fernando road on their way to the Los Angeles markets.

Ray Sence made a flying trip to Saugus Wednesday morning, bought a carload of wheat and returned in time to share in the usual routine of the day's work of the Union Supply company.

Cecil Adams of Casa Verdugo was a business caller at the Olson blacksmith shop Monday. He tells us that there is no workman that suits him so well and that he brings all his work to this shop.

The Walker block is already showing signs of completion. The roof is on, the brick work is done, and the plasterers and lathers are at their work, so that it will soon be ready for the interior finish.

The regular weekly meeting of the city trustees failed to materialize on Tuesday afternoon; cause, no quorum. But they transacted so much and such important business at last week's session that they are excusable for not meeting this week.

C. E. Salisbury, wife and daughter spent Friday at Newport Beach and as a result Mr. Salisbury has a fine case of sunburn. He tells us that Newport Beach has not recovered from the effects of the high waters last winter, but that its neighbor, Balboa Beach, is prosperous and busy.

Ray Horton of the Los Angeles county association of Christian Endeavors spoke at the Christian church Sunday evening. Mr. Horton spoke along the line of the work that the C. E. is doing in the county and made a most interesting address. Special music added much to the enjoyment of the evening.

The H. Simmons blacksmith shop has been closed the past two weeks owing to the serious illness of the proprietor. Mr. Simmons was successfully operated on for appendicitis and seemed on the high road to recovery, but later reports are not so encouraging. We trust that his strong constitution will enable him to again regain his former strength and health.

Ray Willey, chief helper at the Olson blacksmith shop, had the misfortune to step on an old horseshoe nail Monday morning, which pierced his shoe and entered his foot, making a very painful injury. He quit work and used the usual home treatment, but by Wednesday the foot had so swollen that Dr. Thompson was called and he found it necessary to lance the wound and let out the accumulated matter. We trust that our young friend may have no further trouble and soon be back at his accustomed labor.

TROPICO

The camp commander of N. P. Banks Sons of Veterans, accompanied by Delos Jones and R. H. Magee, members of the local camp, attended the reception tendered Mayor Sebastian at the hall of records Monday evening by Rosencranz camp, of which Mayor Sebastian is a member. Commander Griffin responded in his usual felicitous manner to a few smiles. This delightful affair was limited to the members of the Sons of Veterans.

Robert N. Taylor, delegate to the state convention of Good Templars, is spending the week in San Francisco, where he is combining business with pleasure.

Mrs. Joseph V. Griffin of West Acacia street is in receipt of the announcement that an eight-pound baby boy arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Reeves of Burbank Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal H. Davenport enjoyed a most delightful motor trip Sunday, having as their guests Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Gaarder. The party motored to Seal Beach and then to Alamitos Bay, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ballentyne, formerly of Tropico, but more recently of Los Angeles, who with Mr. and Mrs. Lee of the city are chaperoning fifteen of the Campfire Girls of Los Angeles, who are enjoying an outing at Alamitos Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Byram have returned from Santa Barbara and will now reside in Los Angeles.

Friday evening the Tropico Boy Scouts will hold their regular weekly meeting in the Magnolia street school, where they have very pleasant and commodious quarters. Dr. A. M. Duncan will give a talk on first aid. These talks by this popular doctor are proving a most delightful feature of the Friday evening meetings.

LYNCH THREE NEGROES

Alabama Mob Strings Up Men Suspected of Mule Poisoning

Special Service to Glendale Evening News
HOPEHULL, Alabama, Aug. 18.—Three negroes suspected of mule poisoning were lynched by a mob here today. Arrested on suspicion the negroes were examined and, there being grave doubts of their guilt, they were released. The mob, however, was waiting for them outside the jail and in total disregard of the findings of the officials, dragged them off and strung them up to the nearest tree.
